Pro-Rebel Group Is Caught in Act

U.S. Agents Surprise Arms-Laden Airplane

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — Federal agents surprised nearly two dozen Cuban rebel sympathizers in the act of loading munitions aboard a plane and charged 22 persons with violating the Neutrality Act.

Two women were among the group seized with an arms-laden B18 bomber on abandoned Prospect Air Field Monday night.

Border Patrol agents blasted a fleeing auto's tire with machine gun bullets, preventing the getaway of five of their prisoners. The airplane pilot, who identified himself as Rodger Steadman, 41, of Miami, a native of Huron, S.D., fled in a truck but was arrested later at a Fort Lauderdale bus station.

Agents said a big assortment of rifles, machine guns, ammunition, medical supplies, boots and field equipment were placed aboard the plane as they watched from concealment.

Packages Marked "Fidel"

Some of the material was in packages marked "Fidel." Fidel Castro heads the rebel army which dominates much of Cuba's Oriente Province.

There was no immediate word on where the plane came from or who owned it. Agents said the last

Styles Bridges Proposes New Plan for GOP

WASHINGTON (AP) — A counter proposal by Sen. Styles Bridges (R-N.H.) took some of the fire out of a growing revolt by the Senate's Republican liberals today.

With the liberals demanding a greater voice in Republican affairs, Bridges proposed to expand the GOP leadership jobs to three and include a liberal in one of the posts.

The New Hampshire senator said in a telephone interview he will discuss his proposal with President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon next month.

Bridges, who heads the GOP Policy Committee, announced also he will support a move to give Republican newcomers—as well as holdover liberals—at least one important committee assignment each.

Strict Seniority

In the past, new GOP senators have been relegated to membership on minor committees, with assignments made on a basis of strict seniority. Under the leadership of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Democrats have modified the seniority custom to put each new member on at least one top flight committee.

If it is adopted, the Bridges proposal would give such new senators as Kenneth B. Keating of New York and Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania important posts at the beginning of their Senate careers.

It also would move up to more

Ohio Education Board Wants Budget Increase

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — To allow everything the State Board of Education has in mind, the next Legislature may have to appropriate close to a half-billion dollars.

The board has agreed to ask for a budget of about 439 million in the 1959-61 biennium. But an 8½ million dollars deficit is expected in the school foundation program for this 1957-59 biennium.

To make up the 8½ million deficit the General Assembly is higher in almost every detail. It includes

Some $406,925,000 for the 1959-61 school foundation program (operation of schools and transportation), compared with 367 million in the present biennium.

New School Construction

Fifteen million for new school construction, five million more than for 1957-59.

Five million for rehabilitating existing buildings; nothing appropriated last time.

About 4.4 million, to be matched with federal dollars, for improving vocational and technical programs and the state's research and statistical services; strengthening instruction in foreign languages, science and math, and for guidance, testing and counseling.

Government troops killed 244 rebels and possibly more while losing six killed and various wounded, Maj. Gen. Eulogio Can-tillo announced last night. The military commander of the Santiago district said an accurate check of rebel losses was difficult because they "had a great number of wounded."

The army claimed that "rebel and Communist forces had been scattered but are still being hotly pursued" in the area around Santiago, capital of Oriente Province.

Castro controls much of the Oriente countryside.

Rebel broadcasts have claimed more than 20 government troops killed in the bitter battle, which centered on the town of Alto Songo.

A mishap question

There's the question, for instance, of whether the 21 high schools operated by the Amish in Ohio are meeting minimum state standards. If they're not, the state can close them—an action which is already under way in Hardin County, where the prosecutor's office filed suit Monday.

So far, state education officials haven't been able to get the information they want. Their latest attempt, a request for reports from the Committee for Amish High Schools by Oct. 20, went unanswered until Oct. 29, when the committee chairman, Henry J. Hershberger, said the forms had not been completed, but would be

Rocket Expected to Orbit Around Sun

Army's Moon Shot Will Establish Man-Made Planet—If Successful

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The Army plans to shoot a rocket right at the moon and create a man-made planet, Dr. Werner von Braun said today.

And the German-born rocket genius predicts "it has a one in two chance of doing just that."

The rocket would never come back.

It would escape from the earth's gravity and be captured by the sun's gravity. Falling into an orbit around the sun, it would become a 30-pound baby planet, revolving around the sun much like the Earth, Mars and Jupiter.

The first attempt probably will be made in the first week of December.

It will be the first of two moon-probe shots by the Army.

The Air Force has so far launched three probes. One soared

Owen Opposed 'Right-to-Work'

Farm Group Leader Removed From Post

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The so-called right to work issue has reappeared—at the 40th annual meeting of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation.

Ferris Owen of Newark, vice president of the federation, was removed from his post as chairman of its policy development committee Monday because of his part in the campaign. The number of trustees who voted for his removal was not revealed.

While the federation remained neutral on Issue No. 2, Owen expressed opposition. Although he stressed that his views were personal and emphasized the federation's neutrality, the organization became associated with the controversy, a federation spokesman asserted.

H. D. Heckathorn of Forest (Hardin County) assumed the chairmanship.

Announced Resolution

At the same time, and apparently as a result, trustees announced this resolution:

"It shall be the policy of the federation that no board member, official or employee shall make any public statement dealing with the policy of the Ohio Farm Bureau Federation on any matter unless that statement is clearly and unmistakably in full agreement with the established policy of the organization."

"He shall not permit his personal views to be expressed on a controversial matter which links his name in any way with the name of the organization."

The organization's highest honor, the Distinguished Service to Agriculture Award, was presented to C. M. Ferguson, administrator of the Federal Extension Service of the U.S. Department of Agriculture, and W. E. Stough of Gallon, today.

Ferguson has been active in 4-H farm youth work and Stough is a veteran Ohio farmer active in the name of agricultural organizations.

The associate director of the American Farm Bureau's Washington office, John C. Lynn, told the group today that the 1950s may be recorded in history as a period when agricultural sciences came of age, and the 1960s may be the time when farmers stop producing just for market and plan production just for a market.

The twelve-member panel includes Naomi McKay, Elizabeth M. Cross and B. S. Kupka of Salem; Mable S. Stuckey and Lloyd Delleman of Lisbon; Donald Hirst of Salineville; Harold Brubaker of Leetonia; Dorothy Engle of East Rochester; Irma R. Wilson of Columbiana; Raymond Marlatt of Signal; O. F. Sidwell of Winona and Genevieve Wolf of Wellsville.

The army claimed that "rebel and Communist forces had been scattered but are still being hotly pursued" in the area around Santiago, capital of Oriente Province.

Castro controls much of the Oriente countryside.

Rebel broadcasts have claimed more than 20 government troops killed in the bitter battle, which centered on the town of Alto Songo.

There's the question, for instance, of whether the 21 high schools operated by the Amish in Ohio are meeting minimum state standards. If they're not, the state can close them—an action which is already under way in Hardin County, where the prosecutor's office filed suit Monday.

The remains were located between 35 and 40 miles southeast of the spot where the missing Portuguese plane was believed to have made an emergency landing Sunday with 36 persons aboard. Six were Americans.

Shipping was alerted and a Portuguese patrol vessel which was two hours' voyage away made for the spot at once. Other ships also were on their way.

Authorities questioned the woman for about 10 hours before the charge was filed shortly after midnight.

Mrs. Conrad's attorney, William M. Hatten, said "the whole thing has been instigated by the insurance companies."

He said $750 was paid by an insurance company after the death of another Conrad child last May, but that there was no insurance on Lynda. The couple has one living child, Robert, 4.

Others who died include Richard, 3 months, and George Jr., 9 months. Richard died Oct. 29, 1956, and George last May 15.

Mrs. Conrad told investigators in May that George died shortly after she found Robert stomping the baby on her living room floor.

Peace Justice W. C. Ragan said he would not set bond until Mrs. Conrad has been examined by the Harris County psychiatrist.

Syria's Shooting at Hussein's Cause

Jordan Is Expected to Make U.N. Complaint

AMMAN (AP) — Jordan today

was expected to complain to the United Nations about what King Hussein called an attempt to kill or capture him in a flight over Syria.

The Jordan Parliament was called in an emergency session to hear the retaliatory steps promised by the young king. He raced home Monday with United Arab Republic jet fighters in pursuit two hours after taking off for a vacation in Europe.

While the U.A.R. was inclined to play down the incident Hussein emerged as a hero in the eyes of many of his people. Jordanians mixed wild celebrations of joy with bitter demonstrations against the U.A.R.

Relations Worsened

Relations between the king and President Nasser's U.A.R. worsened just when there were indications the two Arab leaders were about to patch up their feud.

Some officials in Jordan reportedly viewed the incident as an attempt to kidnap the 23-year-old king and force him to sign his abdication. There was no confirmation of this theory, however.

Hussein charged the jets tried to force his plane down.

U.S.R. officials in Cairo denied the charges. They said Hussein's plane lacked proper clearance to fly over the Syrian Province of the U.A.R.

(President Nasser was reportedly to be convinced Syrian authorities acted properly but also to be upset by the incident, which worsened U.A.R.-Jordanian relations after a recent improvement.)

A national holiday was declared throughout Jordan to celebrate the escape of the 23-year-old king. Crowds surged through the narrow streets of Amman Monday night firing roman candles and rifles.

In the district's 8 precincts, the issue was rejected with 674 favorable votes and 677 in opposition. It received a 49 per cent favorable vote although a 55 per cent affirmative poll was required.

The money would have been used to construct the new central school at a point about midway between the present high school in Fairfield and the junior high school in New Waterford.

Questions arising out of the bond issue defeat probably will be discussed at a meeting of the board of education Thursday night at 8 p.m. at the New Waterford school.

CONSTABLES TO ELECT

Officers will be elected when the Columbiana County Constables Association meets tonight at Salineville. Alvin Johnson of Salineville is president.

Deacon told the 50 persons who attended that "every community has the potential to attract industry. What we need," he added, "is the wholehearted support of the citizens themselves."

The talk was based on the three questions: "What do we have now? What do we need? How do we get it?"

"Salem has access to the turnpike, highways, both existing and under construction or planned, and the Pennsylvania Railroad's New York to Chicago main line," Deacon said. "There is unlimited gas, power and other utilities. Salem's schools are keeping pace with the development and the housing is adequate."

"What the city needs more than anything else is business prospects," he said. "There are many land sites available, though most of them are a ways out from the city. There are, however, 58 acres available in the city for industrial development."

Deacon noted that many cities "have it worse" than Salem and

Russia's Khruschev Against Four-Power Rule in Berlin

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

If Nikita Khruschev really means what he says about abrogating four-power rule in Berlin and freedom of transport between West Berlin and West Germany, there's going to be a new and dangerous international crisis.

The Western powers stood up to the Soviet Union 10 years ago on this issue and forced a Russian backdown with the successful air-lift.

So long as the Russians and their East German satellites only talk about blockading Berlin things will be all right. But if they try actually to interfere with Western control over West Berlin or transport and communications between West Germany and West Berlin, there will be real trouble.

Support of West

And this time, in contrast to the Berlin blockade, the United States, France and Britain could count on the full support of a powerful West Germany in any countermeasures.

What Khruschev said at the Polish-Russian friendship rally in the Lenin Stadium in Moscow Monday was plain enough.

He said four-power rule in Berlin should be ended. He said the agreements under which the West has unobstructed transport and communication rights between West Germany and West Berlin are obsolete and that the Communists should free themselves from them. He said the West should deal with East Germany directly on questions concerning East Berlin and stressed that the Soviet Union would consider an attack on East Germany as an attack on the Soviet Union.

Will Denounce Rule

This sounds menacing. If Khruschev is really serious, then it would follow that the Russians will formally denounce four-power rule in Berlin and the agreements on which it is based, that the East Germans will interfere with surface and air transport into West Berlin and that the Soviet Union would regard any action of force by the West to break a blockade as an act of war.

The catch here is that, as Khruschev no doubt knows, this would mean World War III. It seems questionable that he intends to start the world conflagration, at least in this way.

The West promptly let it be known that any Communist trouble over Berlin will be met with the same firmness shown at Que-

The U.S. State Department bluntly rejected Khruschev's proposal. A spokesman quoted recent U.S. statements of readiness to fight for West Berlin.

Guarding Your Health

By DR. EDWIN P. JORDAN

Cataract Yields Readily to Surgery

One of the most widespread health problems today is a disease of the eyes known as cataract. Thousands of people develop this difficulty every year, and their numbers are increasing simply because more of us are living longer to the age cataracts become more frequent.

A cataract involves that portion of the eye which serves as a lens. The lens is normally clear but becomes clouded in cataract. This produces a blurring of vision.

Perhaps it can be explained best by comparing it with the lens of a camera. If a camera lens is not clean, a picture taken with it would be blurred and fuzzy.

How much fuzziness there is depends on the amount of cloudiness in the lens. If only part of the lens is involved, part of what is seen may be clear and part hazy. If the whole lens is clouded, then all objects will be blurred.

A BEGINNING CATARACT in which the clouding is slight, is called "incipient." When the process of clouding has been completed it is called "ripe" or mature.

Unfortunately, medical treatments — such as drugs or vitamins — have not proved to be of value in dissolving material which clouds the lens, nor can they restore normal vision. Glasses also do not cure cataract's nor give adequate correction.

Operation is the best treatment for a cataract. When the cataract is mature it can be removed and full vision restored in uncomplicated cases. Surgery of the eye has been so much improved that it is sometimes possible to remove the lens with a cataract in it at early stages of development — that is, before it is "ripe."

In response to several people in their 80's or 90's who have inquired, I should like to say that many of them can be successfully operated on in spite of their advanced years.

THERE IS NO REASON to believe that, eyestrain leads to the development of cataract, though, of course, eyestrain should be avoided for other reasons. Heredity and particularly increasing years seem to have more to do with most cases of cataract than anything else.

An untreated cataract will lead eventually to blindness. This unfortunate situation, however, can be avoided because of the excellent results now obtained by surgery.

Episcopal Bishop Is Ordained For Diocese in Southern Ohio

CINCINNATI (AP) — Episcopal faithful in southern Ohio today got a chance to look in on the solemn, colorful ceremony of consecration for their new bishop-elect.

He is the Rt. Rev. Roger W. Blanchard, ordained in his new post in the age-old ceremony of consecration, rich in church tradition.

The ceremony, at Christ Episcopal Church here, was telecast through three outlets in the southern Ohio diocese—Cincinnati, Dayton and Columbus.

Bishop Blanchard, one-time football star for Boston University in the early 1930's, will automatically succeed the Rt. Rev. Henry Wise Hobson as chief pastor of the diocese when Bishop Hobson retires next spring.

The Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop of the Episcopal Church in the U.S., served as consecrator in the ritual.

It was one of his last official acts. Bishop Sherrill will retire next Saturday after 11 years as archbishop of the Episcopal Church in this country.

Bishop Blanchard will take over a diocese comprising 40,000 laymen in 80 congregations, with 100 priests and pastors.

The 48-year-old clergyman has been dean of St. John's Cathedral, Jacksonville, Fla. Before that he served for six years as executive secretary of the college work division of the Episcopal Church's national council.

Bishop Blanchard also served as pastor of churches in Columbia, Mo.; Beverly, Mass., and Lynn, Mass.

Bishop Hobson and the Rt. Rev. Edward Hamilton West, bishop of Florida, served as co-consecrators in today's ceremonies.

The consecration ceremony began at 10 a.m. and was followed by a service of holy communion. It ended with a special prayer asking blessing on the new bishop.

I Thank You

For Your Vote. Support and Confidence. It is an honor and a pleasure to serve you.

Inside Labor

By Victor Riesel

At 10 a.m. on the morning after Election Day an aide of Sen. Barry Goldwater told a long distance telephone caller that the political leader was "resting from the election excitement of last night."

The senator could rest well. Of all those who had hit labor head-on with a frontal attack, only he survived.

Furthermore, those who knew the senator knew he rested happy — for he did not retire until he revealed that he had contacted Sen. John McClellan to urge that the racket-busting committee open the fall season with a probe of money, manpower and, said the Arizona senator, some "racketeers" sent into the state to fight him.

Inside Sen. Goldwater's sleepy camp the word was that colleague McClellan had agreed. Investigators were already in the state.

But outside of sunny, prosperous, almost fully employed Arizona, few regular Republican leaders rested well.

THEY COULD talk about getting into action that very morning after the big count. But they had little to match the far-flung, smooth and sophisticated network of campaign units which labor had hooked up across the nation this year.

Labor's machine, on the day after election, appeared to be by far more polished, more automated, better staffed, better financed and more strategically directed from local headquarters than anything political observers had yet seen.

The only Republicans who won were those who did not tangle with labor or did not raise a labor issue — and that went for Nelson Rockefeller in New York as well as for GOP congressmen in Wyoming.

Labor didn't do it this time with phone networks, car pools or baby sitters, alone.

Collectively it poured several million dollars into the fight against the right-to-work proposals. But

Farm Bureau Trustees Elected at Meeting

LISBON — Approximately 250 persons attended the Columbiana County Farm Bureau meeting on Saturday night at Knox Local School.

Trustees were elected to serve for the coming year. They are (re-elected) Willard Cope and Galen Greenisen of Salem RD; Stetvin Blosser of Columbiana RD; J. Herbert Frischkorn of Wellsville RD; Mrs. Wilbur Hayes of Salineville; Howard Blanchard of Kenton RD; and Mrs. Charles Berger of Beloit RD 2.

Elected were Raymond McMillen of Wellsville RD; Galen Zimmerman of Leetonia RD; Orrin Weaver, Frank McKarns and Leland Baker of Lisbon RD; Marion Sanor and Mrs. Orland Weaver of East Rochester RD; Mrs. Floyd Sidwell of Columbiana RD; Lester Sanor of Homeworth RD; and Marvin Grossen of New Waterford RD.

Morris Alton of Columbus, director of public affairs of the Ohio Farm Bureau, was the guest speaker.

Round and square dancing followed the business meeting.

there were no big sums spent by any central outfit.

The national AFL-CIO headquarters put out a movie, a book, and some literature. But friendly regional committees and local unions spent hundreds of thousands more on an additional movie, scores of major television shows and literally thousands of TV and radio spots.

THESE WERE as expertly produced and as skillfully timed on small networks from Vermont to Washington on the West Coast as anything Madison ave did for the Rockefeller campaign.

But this labor campaign, methodically decentralized, swept far beyond even the modern smooth-coated techniques. This time labor didn't attempt to fight alone.

In the state of Washington, for example, the union chiefs went to the small businessmen's organizations. These are made up of merchants who depend on the good will of union customers.

And, of course, on the daily year-round cooperation of union workers in their stores and shops and on the floors of their small factories.

These merchants hit the hustings against the right-to-work laws and for the labor backed candidates.

In Washington, the small businessmen also took some personal pleasure in fighting against proposal openly backed by the aircraft and electrical equipment corporations.

But what stands out in this truly vast campaign which defeated most of the right-to-work proposals and helped to elect 170 out of 248 major candidates labor endorsed is the fact that labor made this a bread and butter election.

TO DO THIS successfully the second and third echelon union managers and business agents by the tens of thousands stopped making speeches about registering and getting the vote out. They got today.

The auto was reported stolen from the Hub lot at 395 S. Broadway between 7 and 8 p.m. Saturday.

There was scarcely a local union which didn't hear that the right-to-work laws would result in the loss of jobs, the loss of seniority, the loss of high wages, the loss of the all vital grievance procedure, the loss of picketing rights, the loss of cost-of-living increases, the loss of power-in future negotiations, the loss of pension and welfare benefits, the loss of restraints on outright firing and, in effect, the loss of their unions.

Against this kind of argument no Republican could win — even in states where there was no right-to-work issue — unless he denounced it.

With the manpower to sound off in thousands of union halls, labor apparently has built what for the moment is the most effective political force in the land.

Integration Barrier

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Brooks Hays Lost to a "Write In"

Poor Brooks Hays! One of the finest men in Congress — a spiritual leader as well as a statesman—went down to defeat last Rock.

But it was not a defeat intended to be administered to him as an individual. For he was well liked and had made a good record in his 16 years in the House of Representatives.

It was a voting demonstration based on the principle of free expression by the people of a congressional district who were determined to use the opportunity of a last-minute "write in" vote to register their deep-seated opinions of the segregation issue.

Responsibility for the political tragedy rests to no small extent upon those outside critics who have provoked bitter resentments among the people of Arkansas.

It is not, for instance, a demonstration of the defiance of the law of the land—as one Northern critic called it last week—when the people of a district, by their votes, express themselves against integration or on any issue, no matter how controversial it may be.

It is this sort of extremism that has made the well-intended course of Brooks Hays as a "moderate" doubly difficult with his own people.

What plans? In broad terms, we must plan, North and South, to raise the Negro race to a plane of character, cultivation and manners where it will be entirely fit to intermarry with the white race.

"AS A HISTORIAN, I do not for a moment believe that, in our mighty American river of many nationalities, two currents can flow side by side down the centuries without ultimately becoming one.

"At first the fusion will be imperceptible; then it will be perceptible but slow; then it will move with a rush.

"I could cite a dozen analogies from history to prove that such a process is inexorable, irresistible.

"Any sociologist could cite a dozen reasons why it is inevitable.

"As I say, we should not regard it as an object of our obedience to the Declaration of Independence; but we must school ourselves to accept it as a final result.

There is a feeling in the South that if the problem of integrated schools has a sociological aspect—as the Supreme Court of the United States ruled in 1954—then it is not fair to take into account some sociological factors and ignore the others.

Hence Professor Nevins' remarks, while delivered with the object of promoting acceptance of integration, will serve also to underline the true objections of the opponents of integration.

This And That

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the good old days weren't so bad in France. During the 15th century a Frenchman who kept three servants was permitted to kiss any French woman he fancied—except the relatives of his superiors.

That Hollywood may lead America in ulcers, but New York has more doctors than any other state.

Farm families drink an average of 11 quarts of milk a week. City families drink nine.

Actor Walter Slezak describes his first meeting with his wife thusly: "The moment I saw her, God feeling older? Every day 2,000 persons in the United States turn 65.

In the days when the automobile was young, Colorado had this unusual traffic rule: "The speed on country roads will be a secret, and the penalty for every mile in excess will be $10."

Americans are still about as restless as ever. Last year one out of five moved to a new home.

Here's a health tip: your young daughter probably won't pay any attention to: Some doctors believe prolonged wearing of a pony tail may induce baldness.

Some scientific tests indicate that a man's mental powers in cold weather are up to 30 per cent higher than in warm weather. That reminds us of the old gag about the fellow who had water on the brain. In winter it froze, and everything slipped his mind.

It was Will Rogers who observed, "The income tax has made about as many liars out of the American public as golf has."

Nixon's Problem

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's cold comfort for Vice President Nixon to know that a score of Republican state chairmen consider him at this minute their No. 1 boy for the Republican presidential nomination in 1960.

Although Nelson Rockefeller suddenly became his rival by winning the New York governorship last Tuesday—20 out of 38 chairmen queried by The Associated Press more or less named Nixon as their choice.

Nobody has to tell Nixon this.

The Noise List

By TRUMAN TWILL

When the last noise of summer is gone, these are the sounds I miss most:

The Kee-runk of a horseshoe setting into place around an iron stake;

The chee-chee of the birds when the morning sun warms them up for another day;

The half-heard broadcast of a baseball game through open doors and windows along the street;

The purr of power mowers neatening the grass in residential neighborhoods;

A wisp of music from the radio in a passing convertible, with the top down;

The high-pitched chatter of kids at play in back yards;

The thud of hammers and the whine of power saws coming across the fields in the country, where unseen construction is going on;

Animated discussions of their golf games by the sports who cluster around the office drinking fountain;

The age-old communication system of the canine world in the hours of darkness, with half a dozen dogs barking their messages to one another over miles of space;

The call to worship of country

Once Over

The Democrats won everything back in the election except Fala, Blue Eagle and fire-side chats. All the Republicans won was a two-year supply of skin-diving equipment.

Nixon says the GOP will now roll up its sleeves for 1960 but when you lose your shirt to the opposition what do you use for sleeves? Nelson Rockefeller can't help but be the Republican White House candidate in 1960. He is the LONE SURVIVOR.

IN NEW YORK ELECTION one multimillionaire threw another multimillionaire out of work. Nelson Rockefeller put Averell Harriman in the unemployment role.

It could have been more embarrassing if Rockefeller had handed Harriman a bright new dime, in the tradition of his grandpaw, John D., to express happiness.

Voters gave both boys a run for THEIR money. They were not especially sore at Averell but were just following a growing American custom and turning in an old governor for a new model with a little more glitter.

MANY VOTERS liked Harriman but felt that Rockefeller would be of greater assistance in case of an empty gas tank. There was also a wide belief that in case of serious state financial troubles Rockefeller would step in and handle the problem through a foundation with suitable endowment funds.

The very name "Rockefeller" is associated in the mass mind with skyscrapers, radio centers, de luxe skating rinks, oil, gas, the effort to keep the Dodgers in Brooklyn and Rockefeller Center's biggest Christmas tree on earth. It suggests bigness.

This is the first time a member of the Rockefeller family has sought to take over the Albany State House, and his supporters thought he might establish a chain of them with self-service public benefits, and green stamps.

Matter of Fact

The two principal motions of the earth in space are its rotation, or twirling motion like a spinning top, and its revolution, or movement in an elliptical path about the sun. These two motions determine when and how directly the sun's light or energy strikes the earth's surface. Rotation is the cause of night and day, revolution causes the seasons.

In order to get him out of active politics, Theodore Roosevelt was forced by his party into the Republican nomination for vice president in the 1900 election. He was elected. When the president, William McKinley, was assassinated in 1901, Roosevelt automatically succeeded him in office.

Car Stylists May Suffer as Detroit Studies Its '58 Mistakes

Engineer, Customer Are Back In Driver's Seat

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

DETROIT — (NEA) — The engineer and the customer have been reinstated as members of the board of directors of the American automobile industry.

This move is at the expense of the car stylists who had become virtual corporate dictators of the industry until this year. It results from 1958 being the worst year auto companies have experienced since World War II with not many more than 4.5 million passenger cars expected to be sold.

Actually, the 1959 models do not fully reflect this basic change in thinking by the industry. This was a year of hurried compromises with General Motors and Chrysler taking one route and the Ford company going another direction.

Ali of the advance planning going on, however, reflects an attempt to correct the mistakes that the industry discovered it had made on the '58 and previous models. The customer will be the ultimate beneficiary.

THIS YEAR FORD IS gambling that there has been a fundamental conservative shift in America's taste in cars. Its 1959 cars are just as big and more luxurious than before. But the sheer styling of the bodies is more conservative.

But Chrysler and GM have accelerated the past styling trend in their 1959 models with higher fenders and dramatic rear end configurations. This is the first time in recent years that the Big Three have split on such a vital evaluation of the market.

On the other hand, the Big Three see just about eye-to-eye on the other changes in the industry which must be made. This is where the customer and engineer get into the picture.

Actually there have been no fundamental engineering improvements in cars since the whole range of power equipment, such as on brakes and steering, was introduced.

INSTEAD THE ENGINEERS have had to concentrate on squeezing the mechanical equipment into the low-slung, rakishly-designed bodies. This has resulted in cars that are extremely difficult to service and maintain and has put the uncomfortable, high hump through the middle of cars.

This year Mercury was able to lower the hump drastically in a major victory for the engineers. Next year all of the cars will have the big center hump lowered.

The big victory of this year for the consumer is the top-level attention that the industry has devoted to improving gas consumption. It has been finally determined that the U.S. car buyer now prefers economy over power.

The small car boom proved that many U.S. car buyers want simpler, more economical transportation. And the realization by the U.S. auto industry this year that the small economical car was permanently in the picture is an other important lesson learned.

ALL OF THE BIG THREE, with accelerated imports of their foreign models, are now offering small cars. And all three have standby plans to produce a small car in the U.S. if that is determined to be economical.

Studebaker-Packard is counting on saving itself from extinction this year with a small car, the Lark, which holds promise of becoming a good seller. American Motors' small Rambler was the only U.S. car that enjoyed a greater sales volume in 1958 over previous years.

Another past error, which car makers discovered this year and plan to correct, was the three-year lead time on cars. Lead time means the period it takes to get a new model from the drawing board to the dealer show room. The goal of the industry for the future is to reduce lead time to one year in order to keep pace with changing customer demands.

A final victory for the engineers and the customers was scored when a consumer study was made on why Oldsmobile rose to fourth place in sales in '58. The '58 Olds was loaded with chrome and style gimmicks. But it turned out that its spreading reputation for reliability was the key factor in its popularity.

Oldsmobile had instituted a rigid program of quality control in its plants. Its cars came off the line

Productivity Has Big Meaning for U.S.

It's Your Pocketbook

By FAYE HENLE

(NEA Staff Writer)

Talk with a handful of corporate executives representing a fair cross section of industry and you'll discover they are optimistic on two important scores.

Their business has improved. They look to continued plus signs in sales and profits.

Equally — or perhaps more important — they point with pride to increased productivity.

Increased production means turning out more goods and services with fewer man-hours. Were all raw materials, prices, taxes, wage rates and plant investment costs to remain static, it could spell far higher earnings. On occasion it does.

Currently, however, higher productivity makes it possible for companies to compensate in measure for the rising costs of just about everything. It spells the difference between loss and the present rate of profit.

Productivity of goods and services is an important factor in our economy. It is one well worth pondering, because while business is beaming over productivity gains an impressive number of economists are literally screaming that productivity is not gaining sufficiently and that the lag is a problem as serious as inflation.

What is the latest score on productivity gains?

Most recent government figures, covering factory workers only, show a 3.5 per cent annual gain from 1947 through 1953. Unofficial guessimates put the increase at from five to six per cent in just the past year, holding that the tremendous increase in new plant and equipment installations plus cost-cutting efforts are responsible.

If the unofficial figures prove to be correct, what grounds do the economists have for their criticism? If you asked them, this is what you would hear:

Our rate of productivity gain is not keeping pace with that of other nations.

ONE ECONOMIST cites that over the past four years output in Germany has gained at an annual rate of 10 per cent, in Japan eight per cent, in the Soviet Union the gain has been seven per cent. (I think he fails to take into consideration the fact that, especially in the case of Germany and Japan, the faster productivity gain is due in considerable measure to the rebuilding of war-destroyed industries.)

Second, you would be told our productivity gain is being stymied by insufficient basic research.

Basic research is the development of something totally new, not the addition of a refinement or gadget to something already being produced.

If more money were spent on basic research, whole new industries might be born. Ever hear of anyone in the TV business 20 years ago?

As matters now stand, productivity gains have not caused unemployment. The number of people working today, in relation to our total population, is pretty close to the numbers worked in 1948.

Via higher productivity, industry can control inflation. If workers are granted a three per cent wage increase and produce only two per cent more, that is inflationary. If they can produce at a rate commensurate with their higher pay, a measure of stability is achieved.

Winners Are Named

EAST PALESTINE — Twelve students participated in the two Prince of Peace contests held here Sunday evening.

Miss Carolyn Dey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Dey of Rt. 14, was named winner in the contest at the Evangelical United Brethren Church. Her topic was "Our Answer." "The Door to Peace" was the topic of alternate, Miss Marjorie Stump, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Stump of Unity. Both girls are juniors.

"New Power for Peace" was the subject of William Lindsay who was first place winner in competition at Grace Lutheran Church. A junior, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Lindsay of E. Marion St.

Miss Stump's younger sister, Carolyn, a sophomore, was named alternate. She spoke on "Our Answer."

Bronze medals were awarded to the winners.

The two winners will take part in the county contest Dec. 6.

Thinking
It Over

By Robert L. Dieffenbacher, D.D.

The cynic calls faith "a belief in the impossible." Whether something is impossible or not depends, in part, on the individual and his viewpoint.

"One can't believe impossible things," said Alice in Wonderland to the Queen.

"I daresay you haven't had much practice," reproved the Queen. "When I was your age I always did it for half an hour a day."

Lewis Carroll was not introducing a fanatic new idea into the world. Half an hour of concentration and prayer makes much of the impossible into possibility. Prayer makes faith workable. We need more practice in prayer to strengthen our faith.

Fortune magazine has studied the expansion of our major cities and evaluated both the advantages and disadvantages that the future seems to hold for metropolitan areas. "The Exploding Metropolis" shows how cities that are now spreading reputation for reliability was the key factor in its popularity.

"The Changing Face of New England" by B. F. Thomson. A botanist tells of the geography, ecology and natural history of New England and discusses the natural changes of the land, animals and plant life.

"International Lesson Annual 1959." The new edition of the comprehensive commentary on the International Sunday School Lessons. The guide suggests texts, explanations, applications and teaching aids.

"Wai-Wai" by Nicholas Guppy. The only white man on an expedition into the jungles of British Guiana, the author recorded his impressions of the Wai-Wai, or Frog Indians, and tells of their primitive ways.

"Anne Frank" by Ernst Schnabel. A careful study of the scraps and memories left of Anne Frank besides her diary — and especially the record of her last weeks at Auschwitz and her death.

"Far Eastern Epicure" by M. K. Donovan. A sort of gourmet's journey through China, Japan and India with over 100 menus for Americans.

"American Political Parties" by W. E. Binkley. A revised edition of a book giving the history and growth of American politics and our political leaders.

"Best Plays of 1957-58" edited by Louis Kronberger. Summaries of the top ten on Broadway with a general account of the season and the history and costs of all current plays.

All the wives of the U.S. presidents were born in the United States with the exception of Mrs. John Quincy Adams, who was born in London in 1775. She was the former Louisa Catherine Johnson, daughter of Joshua Johnson, a Marylander

"The Long Dream" by Richard Wright. A powerful tale of a Negro who grew up in the white-supremacy world of Mississippi. Fishbelly worked his way up to wealth and power, but then a catastrophe sent him into bitter exile.

"Made for Man" by A. P. Herbert. A hilarious farce about the English marriage laws. A middle aged actress cooks up a fantastic suicide scheme to make it possible for her husband to remarry under Archbishop of Canterbury rules.

"Niki" by Ebor Day. Niki, a rather nondescript terrier, wandered into the home of Mr. and Mrs. Anca in Hungary. During the years of change and suffering Niki became an important part of the household as each person told her their innermost thoughts.

"Tether's End" by Margery Allingham. A well-plotted thriller in which two British sleuths link a

Helen, Brunner, Fred Silvers Wed In Double Ring Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Helen E. Silvers, 20, of Salem, and Fred Silvers took place Saturday at 6:30 p.m. in the bride's home at RD 3, Salem.

The Rev. George D. Keister, pastor of Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, officiated at the double ring ceremony, which was witnessed by the immediate families.

The bride is a daughter of Mrs. Alfred Brunner and the late Alfred Brunner. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Mary Silvers of 1811 Maple St. and the late Paul Silvers.

Setting for the ceremony was an arrangement of palms centered with a large basket of chrysanthemums and pompons. "Because," "With This Ring I Do Thee Wed," and "This, the Mome n' Divine" were included in the nuptial melodies.

Ross Brunner of Greenford gave his sister in marriage. She wore a sequin trimmed street-length princess style dress of satin brocade and matching jacket with three-quarter length sleeves. Her shoulder-length veil was attached to a crown of sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and white mums.

Mrs. Glen Warner of New Philadelphia, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Her street-length lavender dress was fashioned with a lace bodice and nylon marquisette skirt over taffeta. She wore a white headband with face veil and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and daisies.

Glen Warner of New Philadelphia, brother-in-law of the bride, was best man.

The bride's mother wore a teal blue voile print with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. Mrs. Silvers' dark blue crepe dress with matching accessories was complemented by a red rose corsage.

Sixty-five guests from Bay City, Mich., Mt. Vernon, Canton, Leetonia and Salem attended the re-

COLUMBIANA

Mayor's Court Hears
29 Cases in October

COLUMBIANA — A total of 29 cases were docketed in Mayor's Court during October, according to the monthly report issued by Mayor Erwood L. Calvin, which also shows cash receipts and disbursements of $29.55 by the office for the 31-day period.

The court cases included 20 filed by the State Highway Patrol, seven as a result of arrests by village police, and two cases filed under state code sections.

Paid into the village treasury from Mayor's Court was $378.18, including $170.33 as the town's 55 per cent share of State Patrol fines and forfeitures, $65.10 as the costs from State Patrol and state code fines, $105.20 from Mayor's court fines, forfeitures and costs, $25.05 from 5-cent parking meter and ticket book fines, and $12.50 from the sale of five building permits.

The state treasury was paid $139.37 as its 45 per cent share of State Patrol fines, and $12 was paid to the county treasury as fines under the two state code cases.

THREE WINNERS and three alternates, picked to advance to county competition, have been an-

150 Courses Offered To Army Enlistees

A new Army program directed to the high school senior and recent graduates gives qualified applicants the choice of more than 150 technical courses before they enlist for the regular Army, Sgt. Emanuel Bosley, local recruiter, reports.

If all requirements are met and a vacancy exists in one of the desired courses, the young man or woman applying will be signed up for an Army enlistment — with a written guarantee of class enrollment in hand.

The applicant is not obligated to enlist even after he or she has been accepted for the program. The decision to take the technical course is still his to make. If the applicant chooses to enlist, he goes into the Army with a career reservation.

Sgt. Bosley said there is schooling to lead to specialization in practically every field of interest.

A school catalogue listing all of the 150 courses is available at the local Army recruiting station located in the Post Office. The office is open each Monday and a Tuesday. Persons interested may call ED 2-4324 for further information.

TO GO TO PENITENTIARY

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Dr. James Barnes Jr., 32, convicted of aiding in the Tobin-Shade insurance embezzlement, will be taken to Ohio penitentiary soon to begin serving a one to 10 year sentence. Monday, Dr. Barnes waived a stay of sentence he previously had requested on grounds he wanted mental examinations at Lima State Hospital.

6 Area Men, Women
Enlist in Army

Six area men and one woman were enlisted in the United States Army during October according to Sgt. Emanuel Bosley, local Army recruiter.

The new enlistees are all receiving eight weeks of basic training. After basic and a short leave they will report to other training centers to receive the specialized training of their choice.

Enlisting for three years in the Women's Army Corps was Miss Mary Rosalie Tate of Willoughby who enlisted through the Salem recruiting office and selected the clerical school at Fort McClellan, Ala.

Enlistees from Salem going in under the Army's high school program were Gary O. Hartzell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Hartzell of RD 3, Salem, and William E. Schuster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gustave S. Schuster of 481 Arch St. Both are graduates of Salem High School and selected the cryptographic material security school.

Re-enlisting in the grade of private first class was Carl L. Whinery of 765 W. Pershing St. who had served in the Army engineers for three years and saw service in Korea. A 1954 graduate of Salem high school and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilmer D. Whinery, Carl selected the Signal Corps.

Enlisting for the Army Air Defense Command with assignment to the Nike missile units in New York were Richard E. Keller Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Keller Sr. of 180 W. 14th St., and John C. Dupal, son of Mrs. Mary A. Dupal of RD 1, Salem. Both are 1954 graduates of Salem High School and attended the University of Youngstown.

Another enlisted for the Signal Corps was Michael T. Meade of Columbiiana. Entering ordnance electronics was Donald A. Smith of RD 1, Hanoverton, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald A. Smith.

Deaths, Funerals

Arnold J. Greene

Arnold J. Greene, 60, of 1165 E. 3rd St. died suddenly of a heart attack at 2:35 p.m. Monday at the American-Standard Corp. plant. He was pronounced dead on arrival at the Central Clinic.

Born in Salem Township, Dec. 22, 1897, he was the son of Frank and Elizabeth Stoller Greene. On July 3, 1920, he married Verna Ella Fults, who survives.

A resident here all of his life, he was employed as a foreman of the tool and die department of Mullins and the Standard plant for 34 years. He was a member of the First Christian Church, Elks Lodge, Salem Hunting Club and the United Commercial Travelers.

Besides his wife, he leaves two daughters, Mrs. Janice Meltschek of Salem and Mrs. Dorothy Hanner of Pittsburgh; two sons, Carroll I and Richard L. Greene of Salem; 11 grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Leroy Bates of Salem; and two brothers, Emmor of Salem and Shirel of Pontiac, Mich.

Services will be Thursday at 2 p.m. at the Arbaugh-Pearce Funeral Home, with the Rev. C. F. Evans of Weirton, W. Va., former pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating. Burial will be in Grandview Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday from 2 to 4 and 7 to 9 p.m.

William Ashbaugh

COLUMBIANA — William B. Ashbaugh, 73, of 43 N. Pearl St. died at 8:40 a.m. Monday following a five-year illness.

Born in Chicago, March 6, 1885 he was the son of William N. and Clarice Butler Ashbaugh. On July 26, 1906 he married Florence Adair Heasley, who survives.

For 37 years he was employed as chief recorder in the Brier Hill blooming mill of Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co., retiring Jan. 1, 1954. He was a 1904 graduate of Rayen High School in Youngstown. He had resided here two years, coming from Youngstown.

Besides his wife, he leaves a son, William H. Ashbaugh of Glendale, Calif.; two daughters, Mrs. B. G. Rook of Longview, Tex., and Mrs. James L. Koehler of Columbiana; seven grandchildren; and one great-grandchild. A son, Robert Adair Ashbaugh, died in 1937.

Services will be held Thursday at 1:30 p.m. at the Fry Funeral Home, with the Rev. William Longsworth of the Methodist Church officiating.

Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday evening from 7 to 9.

Monday in a twin-engine transport plane bound for a European vacation. He later reported that two communist-built MIG jet fighters from Syria set upon him near Damascus, capital of the Syrian Province.

The MIGs tried to force his plane down but did not fire at it, the King said. His pilot dropped down near the ground for a wild hedgehopping flight back over rugged country to Amman.

Hussein, himself a flier, was riding as co-pilot. His pilot said the two MIGs were trying to get into position to fire at the Jordanian plane all the way back.

Immediately after his return Hussein accused the Syrian pilots of violating international law by intruding in Jordanian air space. The charge was made in a broadcast to Jordan's 1,500,000 people, many of whom favor Nasar rather than Hussein. Cairo radio has called in the past for Hussein's assassination.

"They are making enemy attacks upon you in my person," Hussein said. He added that his government was taking "necessary steps" to maintain Jordan's prestige and dignity. He did not elaborate.

The broadcast came after a long emergency session with Hussein's cabinet. Parliament was called into session today.

FINED AT LISBON
LISBON — Two motorists were fined $15 and costs Monday by County Judge Samuel Crawford for motor vehicle violations.

Irvin M. Stillerman, 35, of Youngstown was fined $100 and costs for operating a truck while his highway use tax was under suspension.

Richard A. Ameling, 22, of Kensington RD 1, was fined $15 and costs for failing to stop within a clear distance after he was involved in an accident.

Both were cited by state highway patrol.

Army Major Robs Theatre; Shot, Killed

KANSAS CITY (AP) — A 40-year-old major, studying with the Army's brightest officers at the Command and General Staff College, was shot and killed Monday night after robbing a downtown theater of $568.

Police identified him as Russell Edgar Parker, originally from Corbin, Ky.

John E. Dugan, manager of the theater, shot Parker in the back. Parker staggered down a flight of stairs and through the lobby, then collapsed and died face down on main street in the bright light of the Roxy Theater marquee. He still cradled the theater's metal cash box in one arm.

The major's wife, the former Janie McBride of Raeford, N.C., went into shock when she was told of his death. They were living in Leavenworth, Kan., 25 miles northwest of Kansas City, while Parker attended the college at Ft. Leavenworth. They have no children.

Speaker Sam Rayburn of Texas, in a post-election statement, called attention to tax law revision hearings to be undertaken by the House Ways and Means Committee when Congress convenes in January.

Rep. Wilbur D. Mills (D-Ark.) Ways and Means Committee chairman, noted in a forecast of possible tax legislation published last September that "tax differentials and preferences now existing . . . cut our tax base by billions of dollars."

Pinpointed Treatment
As areas of possible tax revision, Mills pinpointed the favorable tax treatment now afforded those who convert ordinary income to capital gains, allowances for depletion of natural resources like oil and coal, special rules favoring income of insurance companies, and the favorable tax treatment accorded farm and other cooperatives.

Wholesale elimination of tax preferences—some of them in the law 30 years or more—would be certain to stir up a political hornet's nest.

It would be a reversal of a congressional practice which for years has been to add exemptions, preferences and loopholes to the tax laws to satisfy the demands of special individual and business interests.

Now, however, influential Democrats say enactment of a loophole-plugging bill is a distinct possibility—even a probability—in the new Congress. It would be a two-year program calling for House passage the first session and final Senate action in 1960.

signed—and given some control—to swing them around the moon once, or into a steady orbit around the moon, or near the moon and then home again.

The Army plan is in a large sense much less difficult. The small fourth-stage of a multi-stage rocket has to be given an initial speed of 25,500 miles an hour or better. That is the escape velocity to get it forever away from the earth.

The earth's gravity pull gets weaker and weaker the farther you go away from the earth and for practical purposes the rocket can escape from any real influence of terrestrial gravity.

The rocket would speed up when it fell under the influence of the sun's gravity and take up its orbit around the sun.

This is presuming it doesn't hit the moon, even if aimed directly for it.

Hitting the moon without guidance control inside the probe would be fantastically difficult. That is partly why Von Braun gives it a one in two chance of escaping to become a planet.

Army experts indicated they would not be unhappy if the probe did hit the moon. It will be sterilized to prevent contaminating the moon with earthly germs if that did happen.

The probe will carry instruments to report particularly on the mysterious band of radiation recently discovered high above the earth. It is designed to give full reports on how far this radiation extends.

Fairfield Methodist Church Plans Dinner

The East Fairfield Methodist Church is sponsoring a ham and turkey supper on Saturday, Nov. 22 at the Fairfield Township High School.

A bazaar will also be a feature of the evening which will include a country store, stuffed toys, homemade doll clothes, quilts, braided and woven rugs, fancy work, aprons, home-made candy and baked goods.

The supper will be served at 5:30 p.m. Tickets are available from Mrs. Floyd Albright of Columbiana, Mrs. Dwain Hawkins and Mrs. Harold Baker of New Waterford.

All proceeds will go to the church building fund.

Salem Council, United Commercial Travelers of America, will conduct its business meeting Wednesday evening at 8 in the Elks Home, with Senior Counselor William Mackey presiding. Lunch will be served by William Schaeffer and his committee.

Lisbon Council Fails to Act On Appointment of 2 Firemen

LISBON — Despite a lengthy discussion on the appointment of two new volunteer firemen to the local department, Village Council took no action at its regular meeting Monday night.

Mayor John Todd has refused to appoint Paul Kuhns, a merchant, and Dean Senanefes, a tavern owner, although both have been active and completed a firemen's training school last August. The five village councilmen have indicated they favor their appointment but, with the mayor's objection, declined again last night to take any action.

Mayor Todd reported the village received $912.30 from fines and costs in October. He took in $643.90 from state patrol cases, $134.40 in village fines and costs and $133 in motor vehicle violations.

Council authorized the repairing of spouting on the Village Hall that needs replacing. Water was reported to be running into nearby cellars from the broken spouting.

Council received payment of $119 to Jerry Sanders, a former councilman, for fire calls he handled in 1956 and 1957 while he was a councilman. Councilman Richard Bloom has received compensation for first half of 1958, it was brought out in a discussion. Mr. Bloom said he did not want to violate any existing law on the matter.

Council will place the village fire and police phones in the County Jail and authorize the wiring to be done so that fire calls and police calls will be answered at the jail. The new fire siren on top of the jail is operated by the sheriff's office.

The town-hired guard at East Lincoln Way and Pritchard Ave. was placed under the jurisdiction of school board which will set his hours but the village will continue to pay his salary.

A lock was authorized to be installed on the Ground Observers Corps tower on top of Memorial Stadium.

One of the new rules that Council's police committee has recommended for the police department is that on fire calls the policeman on duty will be instructed to call out other police and they will be used for traffic duty when necessary; also the night men are instructed to check and notify the chief if any meters that are not working. Instruction as to the use of the police cruiser will be set down by the police committee.

Communist bombardments have slackened off since the Nationalists counted 39,163 shells on Nov. 3. There has been no shelling at all during the last four even-numbered days, although by Communist ground rules only the supply landing area and airfield on Quemoy were supposed to be immune from bombardment on those days.

Meanwhile, a U.S. Defense Department team toured Formosa studying how effectively American military aid is being used.

The team of 11 officials is headed by Charles H. Shuff, deputy assistant secretary of defense for the U.S. military assistance program.

Mrs. Goldie K. Schwartz of 821 Homewood Ave., Salem, and the Riley Construction Company of Alliance, were each sued for $50,000 in the two suits.

Mrs. Boger claims in her petition that on Nov. 13, 1956, she was struck in left eye by two particles of stone which had projected from a slab of stone being faced with an instrument by one of defendant's agents while in construction of the Schwartz store by the construction company.

County Health Group Plans Jan. 29 Meeting

LISBON — Eight members of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council Committee met Monday afternoon in county farm extension office.

The quarterly meeting open to the public, will be held Thursday, Jan. 29, at St. George parish hall in Lisbon.

The theme will be "Financing County Health Departments." A panel of township trustees will discuss the matter and a representative from the state department and county health department will discuss finances.

She claims that the assessment of $2,776.38 for 227.2 feet of paving at $12.22 per front foot in front of her home "is excessive and exorbitant."

Files Court Action In Paving Assessment

An action to enjoin the City of Salem from collecting assessments for the paving of Highland Avenue, has been filed in common pleas court at Lisbon by Mrs. Arthur H. Vaughan of 989 Highland Ave.

The street was widened and paved a year ago on a contract let by the city. A topcoat was applied recently.

Salem Climbs to 12th Place In Associated Press Poll

Quakers In Front of Warren; Bulldogs 15th, Canfield 28th

Salem's Quakers took a meteoric jump today in the Associated Press poll by climbing from 18th place to 12th despite only a 21-8 win over Leetonia last week.

The Red and Black collected 43 votes or 12 more than last week to give them their highest rating of the season. Two weeks ago Earl Bruce's team was 14th.

This week's rating of 12th ranks them but two places behind the great 1957 team which ended 10th.

The Quakers collected two more than 13th ranked Warren. East Palestine was 15th, Brookfield 18th and Canfield 28th.

Youngstown East, who Salem beat 19-18, was rated 8th.

The final poll will be taken after this week's games.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Allianc's Aviators, with a rousing 76-0 victory over Akron Hower, clung to the top spot today in The Associated Press ratings of Ohio's high school football teams.

At the same time a new individual scoring leader, Kenny Johnson of Class AA New Concord, popped into the picture. Kenny, a 55-pound senior, scored 32 points.

Newark, despite its lofty poll spot, was held to three first downs and a net of six yards by Marietta which had lost four of eight.

Ashland, which had lost seven straight, came up with a huge surprise by ending Galion's 19-game unbeaten streak 22-20. Ed Ulmer of Brookfield scored 21 points against Hubbard and finished with 152 as the team won its eighth straight. Once beaten Youngstown East grabbed the city title by beating Woodrow Wilson 14-6.

Salem beat Leetonia 21-8 for its fifth straight and a 7-2 record. Halfback Ralph Ehrhart was the standout this year for Salem with 595 yards in 120 tries for 72 points. Bob Osterling of Leetonia carried 296 times for 1,463 yards this season, piling up 101 points.

Parma notched its first unbeaten season in history by swamping Berea 24-8.

William Mallory, in his first year as a coach, has piloted East Palestine to eight straight with a 230-70 scoring edge.

Alliance scored a safety on the kickoff and touchdowns on its first two plays from scrimmage to run up an 18-0 lead in the first three minutes against Akron Hower.

Eight backs contributed the 10

Marion Harding, 34 poll points back of Alliance last week, wound up with a 20-0 win over Sandusky and cut its deficit to 29. Cleveland Benedictine, Massillon held the fourth spot with a 36-0 verdict over Akron Garfield.

Green Bay May End

With Worst Record

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) The

Green Bay Packers can wind up with their worst record in the National Football League if they don't nurse their sputtering offense back to life.

So far this year the Packers have lost five games, tied Detroit

Still on schedule are two games each against Los Angeles and San Francisco and a Thanksgiving Day tilt with the revived Detroit Lions.

In 1949, Curly Lambeau's last year as coach here, Green Bay finished with two victories in 12 games. Lambeau's successor,

Gene Ronzani, was dismissed in 1953, the year the Packer won two, lost nine and tied one game.

Following the 56-0 humiliation at

Baltimore Nov. 2, the Packer defense perked up and looked fairly respectable in a 21-1 loss to the Chicago Bears Sunday. But the offense produced only 52 yards on the ground and a loss of 50 yards in attempting to pass.

Green Bay failed to capitalize on four touchdown chances in the first quarter alone.

Cleveland Browns Up Against Washington's Passing Attack

CLEVELAND (AP) — The Cleveland Browns had won five straight games and looked almost unbeatable two weeks ago. Then the opposition discovered a winning formula—stop the Browns' running attack, and throw lots of passes.

The New York Giants used that strategy for a 21-1 victory. They concentrated their defense on Cleveland's Jim Brown, the National Football League's leading ground gainer. Chuck Conner, Giants' quarterback, completed 12 of 23 passes good for 173 yards and three touchdowns.

Detroit's Lions followed a similar pattern and drubbed Cleveland, 30-10. Brown could gain only 83 yards and his running mate, Bobby Mitchell, was held to 39 yards rushing. Tobin Rote threw for three Detroit touchdowns and gained 246 yards through the air.

Yardley Leads NBA Scopers; Arizin Second

NEW YORK (AP) — Pitchin' Paul Arizin, a two-time National Basketball Assn. scoring champion, sparked during the past week to move into second place behind defending titlist George Yardley of the Detroit Pistons.

The jump-shooting specialist of the Philadelphia Warriors advanced from eighth with 92 points in three games. This boosted Arizin's season output to 190 points in seven games. He ranks sixth among the all-time NBA scorers.

According to figures released today by league headquarters, Yardley still leads with 216 points in nine games. Gene Shue of Detroit, who collected a season's high of 45 against Boston Sunday, is third with 178. Rookie Elgin Baylor of Minneapolis holds fourth with 177.

Bob Pettit of the St. Louis Hawks, runner-up a week ago, played only one game and fell to fifth with 175 points in six games. His 29.2 average is tops followed by Arizin's 27.1 points per game mark.

Kenny Sears of the New York Knicks connected on 64 per cent of his field goal tries in his last three games to take over the lead as the most accurate marksman. He boasts a season's mark of .562.

Sam Jones of the Boston Celtics, hitting 16 of 17 free throw tosses, retains his supremacy in that department with a .941 average. Teammate Bill Russell has snared the most rebounds, 130, and the Pistons' Dick McGuire leads in assists with 168.

Johnny Unitas Begins Workouts in Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP) — Johnny Unitas, star quarterback of the National Football League, begins working out today at Memorial Stadium.

Just out of a hospital bed, Unitas was expected to just jog around the turf. He already has been fitted for a special brace.

Dr. Erwin Mayer, team physician, said:

"John will be able to run this week and may be back in the line-up a week earlier than we thought. He will have to miss the next two games for sure, but has a fine chance now of being ready to play against San Francisco.

Questions and Answers

Q—Is an opal cut in the same manner as a diamond?

A—Since the beauty of the precious opal lies in its internal color flashes, it is never cut with facets, like a diamond. Instead, the opal is cut with a gently rounded convex surface.

Q—in the Bible, what were the first words spoken to man?

A—Be fruitful, and multiply, and replenish the earth, and subdue it.

New Look In Small Arms

Versatile M-14 Rifle Leads the List

By JERRY BENNETT

FORT MONROE, Va. — (NEA) — Recent charges that the U.S. uses obsolete infantry weapons will sound like flights of fancy if repeated after the Army adopts its upcoming new look in armaments.

Criticism of GI equipment followed the landing of troops in Lebanon with accusations that Arab arms were newer than the World War II-type weapons carried by our forces.

But U.S. Army officials here are confident that their latest weapon models will be hard for any country to beat. Fort Monroe is headquarters of the Continental Army Command which has the job of designing and developing GI equipment.

Information about atomic weapons is strictly hush-hush. But Fort Monroe officers have few restrictions when it comes to describing standard weapons such as the new M-14 rifle.

MAIN REASON for their enthusiasm about the weapon is that it will replace three others, the M-1, the carbine and the sub-machine gun. This combination of three weapons in one is expected to reduce supply and maintenance problems usually connected with small arms.

The M-14 holds 20 slugs and can be fired one shot at a time or like a sub-machine gun. The old M-1 rifle only holds eight rounds and is limited to semi-automatic fire.

Fort Monroe officers explain that the M-14 will not completely eliminate the use of the sub-machine gun. The famed little chopper will still be issued to armor units since the M-14 is too large to be easily carried in the close quarters of a tank.

Another new weapon, which is drawing praise from arms experts, is the M-15 rifle. This will soon replace the old Browning Automatic Rifle which enables one man to direct a killing fire at a group of enemy soldiers. The M-15 is about seven pounds lighter and considered much easier to handle.

WHEN IT COMES TO regular machine guns, the Army experts would have to draw on every ounce of their weapons ingenuity to surpass the latest U.S. model. It's called the M-60. Like the M-14 rifle, the weapon is designed as a triple replacement. Army plans call for it to do the jobs of all three models of the old .30 caliber machine guns.

But what excites the Army most is the weapon's light weight. Minus its tripod, the M-60 weighs 23 pounds. The three .30 calibers are about seven to 18 pounds heavier.

The M-60's extreme lightness enables a soldier to fire it from the hip or shoulder. Weapons experts explain that it's the first U.S. machine gun that's light enough for a soldier to carry during a charge. It's capable of firing between 550 and 600 rounds a minute.

The back-breaking work which often goes into foxhole digging has been practically eliminated by another startling invention. This is the explosive foxhole digger.

THE DEVICE FIRES a small rocket which penetrates the ground and explodes. Then all a soldier has to do is simply scoop out the loosened dirt. Experts explain that the rocket device reduces foxhole digging time from hours to minutes.

One of the most startling pieces of new Army equipment is the ultra-fast opening parachute. Now in its experimental stages, the chute is designed to enable a man to bail out of aircraft at extremely low altitudes.

The chute is opened by two small explosive charges. The first one shoots the rolled canopy over the man's head.

The second explosion opens it. The whole operation takes place in about eight-tenths of a second.

Tests show that the chute is capable of fully opening and breaking a man's fall at altitudes as low as 13 feet. The Army plans to issue it to men who fly in the future helicopter-type assault vehicles.

A GI DEMONSTRATES the Army's new lightweight M-60 machine gun.

LEETONIA

Friends Fete Patricia Rouse,
Bride-Elect of John Dattilio

LEETONIA — Miss Patricia Rouse was honored with a personal shower Saturday at the home of Mrs. Rosa Cox, with Mrs. Dan Cullinan as co-hostess. Games were enjoyed with prizes being awarded to Mrs. R. J. Rouse, Mrs. Ann Cosgarea of Salem.

Miss Rouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Rouse, Columbia St., is the bride-elect of John Dattilio of Leetonia. The wedding will be an event of Nov. 30 at St. Patrick's Church in Leetonia.

ON NOV. 3 an investiture of Tenderfoot Scouts and a Court of Honor was held by Troop 13 in the Sportsmen's Club in Leetonia.

The meeting was opened with a flag ceremony and national anthem by Paul Freer. The Rev. W. W. Woodall offered the opening prayer.

Six new members became Tenderfoot Scouts: Robert Beltempo, Benny Brown, David Dattilio, Jim Launi, John Orinscak, and James Trenkelbach. Second class Scouts awards were presented to Robert Greenamyer, Edward Sargent and Tommy Troy.

Five boys became first class scouts: Paul Freer, Jim Ginther, Richard Rutzky, Larry Nocera and Wayne Goerig. Star awards were received by Jon Yocker, Denney Holt and Paul Otto.

One life award was presented to Robert Rutzky of Explorer Post 13.

Approximately sixty parents, guests and scouts were present. Leonard MacDaniels, district field representative, was among the guests.

Merit badges were awarded as follows: Scholarships, Paul Otto, Jon Yacher, Denney Holt; pioneering, Jon Yacher, Kenny Hogue; camping, Roger Weikart; marksmanship and forestry, Robert Rutzky.

Troop 13 has been chartered for 33 years. Each member of the troop was presented with a bar signifying 25 years or more.

A flag designed by the Scout Master was presented to the troop.

Different portions of the flag represent parts of the Scout Oath, and it is called the "Paragon."

Lunch was served by the Mothers Auxiliary of the Boy Scouts.

THE CUB SCOUT planning committee will meet Wednesday evening at 7:30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson. All den mothers are requested to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Kennedy of Alliance visited his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Gotthardt, Sunday.

The new Intermediate Girl Scout Troop, formerly known as Troop 3, will meet at the O.S.I. Hall Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. The leaders are Florence Felger, assisted by Marian Majewski, and Margaret Cook. The intermediates should come in uniform and have their craft book.

The naked eye can see no more than 4,500 stars on a clear night, even though the number visible may seem infinite.

MINORITY LEADER? — The task of leading the depleted Republican ranks will apparently fall to Sen. Everett M. Dirksen (R-Ill.), above. He is favored to succeed Sen. William Knowland when the 86th Congress convenes in January.
